

Hot House Violet TOILET WATER

A toilet water with the real odor of real hot house violets.
For dainty women it has no peer. We are willing to put our whole business reputation back of these goods. Isn't that a liberal recommendation?
Come in today and ask us about Hot House Violet Toilet Water and about the new Soul Kiss Perfume, $1.00 per ounce, and Brookside Violet Talcum Powder, which contains eight times the amount of talcum powder usually sold for 25c—our price for the big package is 25c.

FOOTBALL GOSSIP.

(From The Battalion.)
Varsity defeated the Deaf and Dumb by a score of 5 to 0. What does this mean?

Austin College, while laying over in Bryan, until they left for their game with Trinity, played Allen Academy with the result of 3 to 0 in favor of Austin College.

Several of the boys have received postals from Charlie DeWare saying he is at home now and will probably be down in a few days. Once down here, Charlie will be sure to remain. Come on, kid!

Baylor defeated San Marcos Academy 55 to 0. A. and M. have a game with Baylor in Houston on the 30th. Peacock defeated Southwestern by a score of 11 to 6 last Saturday. The mystery deepens.

Tulane and University of Texas are both using a charging machine in their football practice. It consists of two long skees to which are nailed uprights. A 12-inch board is nailed across these uprights, thus forming a place on which to exert the power to push it. It is pushed ten or fifteen feet at each rush.

President Taft is to be awarded one of the little gold footballs which Yale men who play in championship games get at the end of the season if they win the gridiron championship. The President will be treated in this respect as a member of the Yale eleven, but he will be allowed to break training from time to time. It is probable that he will attend either the Yale-Princeton or Yale-Harvard game.

The President takes a keen interest in the plans of the Yale management for the season. Prescott White, president of the Football Association, visited him at Beverly late this summer. Together they went over plans for the Yale gridiron campaign.—Ex.

"My wife wonders why the papers waste so much space on mere news."
"What does she read?"
"Oh, she reads the weather probabilities, the bargain probabilities, the marriage notices and the love story. But an item about a big battle or the fall of a dynasty looks piffing to her."

Marriages in Spain.

Though marriages in Spain are often arranged without the consent of the bride elect, law or custom gives the Spanish woman the power of appealing to a magistrate if she wishes to escape from a union which is distasteful to her, and the magistrate may take her from her father's house until she is of age and her own mistress, while if she determines to marry a man of whom her parents disapprove she may also place herself under the protection of the law, and she cannot be deprived of her share of the family estates. On reaching her majority she enjoys the same privileges as her brother with regard to property. She may inherit, will, buy and sell. But when she marries she again reverts to the position of a minor, and her husband has entire control of her possessions, which he can squander without rendering any account to her, though she cannot spend a penny of her own money without his consent. He may desert her and her children without incurring any punishment or much public condemnation. A Spanish lady confers on her husband the titles of nobility and any privilege connected therewith she may possess at the time of her marriage.—London Queen.
